

How will wind power be delivered to my home or business? Will I still receive traditional sources of power

Written by Doug Rogness

Wednesday, February 11, 2009 11:22 AM -

Electricity generated by the Capture The Wind program will be fed into the overall power supply. Electrical energy to your home will then be drawn from the overall electric supply system. You will not need any special equipment to participate.